

About Us

Local Executives

Shravan Subramanyam

President & CEO, GE Healthcare

Shravan Subramanyam is the President and Chief Executive Officer of GE Healthcare – India & South Asia region, and Managing Director of Wipro GE Healthcare as of October 2020. He is responsible for building and delivering commercial outcomes, strategic growth objectives, and localization and technology strategy for the Wipro GE Healthcare business in South Asia. He also drives critical partnerships with the global supply chain, technology, and digital transformation teams in South Asia.

Before joining GE, Shravan was the Managing Director, India and Neighboring Markets, at Roche Diagnostics. He was responsible for commercial operations, market access, customer experience, and digital transformation. Shravan has also held global and regional leadership positions at Novartis, Dade Behring and Ehrlich Laboratories.

Shravan holds an MBBS degree from Madras Medical College, India, and a Master's in Health Administration from Cornell University, USA. He was named in The Economic Times' 40 Under Forty List of 'India's Hottest Business Leaders, 2018.'

He enjoys traveling with his wife Roopa and children Anoushka and Aadit. He spends his free time volunteering as a part-time swimming coach.